

A Survival Manual for The Coming World Crisis

A major crisis will soon engulf the world. Unlike other books on the subject, this practical guidebook shows you how to prepare for the earth-shaking events that will affect you and your family. The Coming World Crisis shows you the steps you will need to follow to provide safety and security for your loved ones. After reading this book you will be:

- Prepared for economic collapse.
- Ready for civil chaos.
- Secure in your savings and real estate.
- Equipped to avoid food shortages and famine.
- Strengthened to face the imminent crisis—emotionally, spiritually and physically.

David Szczepanski (left) and Joseph Anfuso (center) work together in pastoral ministry as well as writing with Jim Durkin (right) who oversees Christian Outreach, a nondenominational Christian ministry that has planted churches throughout the United States and overseas. The three authors presently live in Eureka, California.
